

PEACE BETWEEN THE BALKAN STATES

—Rejoicing at Bucharest Over Peace

news that peace had been arranged caused great rejoicings here.

Speculating on Another War.

London, Aug. 6.—The second Balkan peace conference having concluded today on a basis of compromise which is unsatisfactory to all the states concerned, except possibly Rumania, the question is being asked how soon a third Balkan war will break out.

The agreement arrived at in Bucharest today a considerable of northern Macedonia—much more than the allies were at first inclined to give—and also about thirty miles of the seacoast which was asked her to build a projected railway from Philippopolis to the gents being deprived of Kavaj, the supply route to Kavala Bay, which goes to Greece through the straits of the Dardanelles. Confronted with the task of expelling the Turks from Adrianople, it being clear that the Bulgarians will not move in that direction, Bulgaria will seek to introduce in the peace protocols to be signed at Bucharest a clause of reservation practically appealing to the European powers for a subsequent revision of the peace terms.

The details of the new frontier line are still unknown but apparently the whole of Bucharest, Varna and the northern courses of the Vardar and Struma Rivers goes to Serbia, including the cities of Veles and Kocani. Bulgarians, while Demitrisar, Heres, Dramas and Kavaj will fall to Greece.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Bucharest the order to demobilize has been officially promulgated.

"PRODDING" CONGRESSMEN TO SUPPORT LEGISLATION

Washington, Aug. 6. How the National Association of Manufacturers "prodded" members of congress to oppose those who threatened its interests was explained to the house today by Emory, general counsel for the association. Emery was the principal witness in the congressional investigation on both sides of the capitol. He began a preliminary statement by saying that the association and its officers and directors are "proud and anxious" to aid the association and on the other side, to "uncloud the identification of the 200 representatives of the organization's files by the committee."

Discussing the political activities of the association, Emery said that the association had not been in any political campaigns. The association kept track of the records of congressmen and senators and when a congressman's re-election came notified its members individually and the campaign workers.

the house committee estimates dinner for the president and his party at $100 for his testimony on the senate side. The house committee will examine James J. Dwyer, a former employee of the National Association of Manufacturers.
